Heartfelt Condolences

With heavy hearts, the New SADLE Family extends its deepest condolences to the family, friends, and colleagues at Milan Bindu and Stichting Tilingo on the sad demise of our truest friend Marijke.

Even as we write this message, we are still struggling to process the news of her passing. The shock was profound, and it has settled into a deep sense of loss and grief within the entire New SADLE community. It is simply difficult to imagine our past, present, and future without her reassuring presence.

Marijke was not only a partner and supporter, she was a personal friend to each and every one of us at New SADLE. For more than three decades, this friendship grew and deepened, standing the test of both our good days and our difficult ones. Throughout these years, she stood rock solid beside us, supporting every individual and every step of our institutional growth. In this long-standing and multi-dimensional relationship, we often feel that the love, care, and material support she extended to us was far greater than anything we could ever give back. Her generosity of spirit was constant, quiet, and unwavering.

Her contribution to the institutional development of New SADLE is beyond words. She believed in our vision, strengthened our foundation, and walked with us through challenges and milestones. Many among us carry deeply personal stories of her kindness, compassion, encouragement, and timely support. Those memories will remain a lasting treasure.

Today, we stand in solidarity with all family members, friends, and colleagues of Marijke during this moment of immeasurable and irreplaceable loss. Her absence will be deeply felt across continents and communities.

We pray for the eternal peace of her departed soul and for strength to all who mourn her.

With deepest sympathy,
The New SADLE Family
